

The Jewish Quarterly Review

VOLUME 104 NUMBER 1 (Winter 2014)

Forum

Eat, Drink, and Keep Kosher

Editor's Introduction 1

“A Jewish Drunk Is Hard to Find”: Jewish Drinking Practices and the Sobriety Stereotype in Eastern Europe 9

GLENN DYNNER

More Than Recipes: Kosher Cookbooks as Historical Texts 24

EILEEN SOLOMON

Jewish Foodways and Religious Self-Governance in America: The Failure of Communal Kashrus Regulation and the Rise of Private Kosher Certification 38

TIMOTHY D. LYTTON

“Better a Meal of Vegetables with Love”: The Symbolic Meaning of Vegetables in Rabbinic and Post-Rabbinic Midrash on Proverbs 15.17 46

JONATHAN BRUMBERG-KRAUS

Remembering the Fish and Making a Tsimmes: Jewish Food, Jewish Identity, and Jewish Memory 57

ELLIOTT HOROWITZ

Articles

There Is Only One Other: The Fabrication of Antoninus in a Multilayered Talmudic Dialogue 81

RON NAIWELD

Jews and the Language of Eastern Slavs 105

ALEXANDER KULIK

ibn aššarīfab vs. ibn aljāriyah: “Son of the Noble Wife vs. Son of the Concubine”: The Hebrew Component as a Polemic Device 144

ORI SHACHMON

Contributors 167

📄 Dissertations (Web only)

- 📄 Indicates that this is available to subscribers online only.
Go to <http://jqr.pennpress.org>